

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Hide, the world's very first recessed AC outlet, revolutionizes the concept of electrical outlets. In fact, Hide actually hides your power plugs behind its sliding cover, leaving your walls clean, clutter free, tidy, and fully useable.

Imagine your bulky, protruding plugs simply vanishing into the wall. Hide can make this happen . . . just think of the advantages:

- Place your furniture (nightstands, dressers, headboards, TV stands and home-office furniture) flush against the wall.
- Eliminate visible interruptions to your wall or backsplash (plugs can't be seen because they're behind Hide's sliding cover).
- Keep electrical outlets out of children's reach and sight (making your home a safer place).
- Better protect kitchen and bathroom outlets from splashing water.
- With your power plugs hidden, the cords become more streamlined.

Hide can be easily installed on any standard 2-gang electrical box, making it a great retrofit for the AC outlets that are already installed in most homes and offices. Simply remove the old cover and socket and substitute them with Hide.* No need to modify the wall or adapt any part of the electrical system.

Hide means Refined Design:

- Minimal: a sleek, linear look that represents your personal style.
- Evolved: transforms the AC outlet into a complementary aesthetic that creates order.

Hide means more Functionality:

- More free space: eliminates the annoying encumbrance of unsightly plugs.
- Compact: with the plug inserted, the cord sits just 0.35" from the wall, not a bulky 2".

Hide means increased Safety:

- Protection: no visible plugs mean less risks for children.
- Intuitive: installation and use are easily understandable.

Hide inspires Creativity!

- Customizable: the Hide cover can be painted or decorated with wallpaper and stickers.

Over one million sold in Europe. A product of Italian ingenuity. Now available in the United States. Meet Hide: The Electrical Revolution.
